Harry Krytzer Will Be the Guest Speaker at the Meeting Wednesday

Seniors To Be Honored at All-College Chapel Wednesday Noon

Wednesday's chapel service will be the last for this year, and is in honor of the graduating Seniors. All Seniors are invited to attend as special guests at this service.

Harry Krytzer, well known former Senior president, will be guest speaker. His topic is entitled "Values." Harry has done outstanding work while attending here at State, particularly in connection with the College Y. M. C. A. He is particularly interested in the probation boys and detention home project now under way in the local community. The talk Harry gives at noon tomorrow will be exceedingly worthwhile to those who are to graduate in later years.

The music committee has done fine work during the past quarter. Esther Phelps and Arthur Lack should receive special recognition for the time and effort spent to make the chapel a success. Tomorrow Joel Carter will render a vocal solo as special music. A good attendance is expected for this last chapel, and everyone is urged to attend.

Frank Triena Leaving To Appear at Chicago

Frank Triena, 425 Royal Avenue, San Jose, California, prominent young musician and San Jose State College student, will leave San Jose on June 17th for Camp Sierra to join the Pacific Coast band, chorus, and orchestra. From the Camp they will go to Chicago, where they will be featured at the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition during the week beginning July 9th. Young Triena will be violin soloist. The young musicians composing this group will be under the direction of Major Earl Dillin, of Kernan, California.

A letter received by the founder of the California Pals Club, of which young Triena is secretary, from the former Vice President, Charles G. Dawes, 208 South La Salle Street, Chicago, states, in part: "I am glad to know that one of the members of your club, Mr. Frank Triena, is to be a violin soloist at the Century of Progress on July 9th."

A letter from Hon. Henry T. Rainey, Speaker of the House of Representatives, states: "If it is possible for me to be in Chicago on July 9th I will be very glad indeed to introduce Frank Triena."

There will be no noon dance in the quad tomorrow because of final week.

Photography Classes Will Exhibit Last Quarter's Art Work

Dr. Brauer and Mr. E. S. Green are showing the work completed by their photography class during the past quarter, in the hall, upstairs, in the new Science building, today and tomorrow, from 9 a. m. to 12, and 1 p. m. to 5.

Forty-eight students have contributed material, which contains more or less, the cream of their pictures taken during the quarter. Many of these are enlargements, some toned, and the rest merely prints.

Mr. Green, in charge of the laboratory, says the work this quarter is above the average, featured with several excellent scenes.

In addition to the pictures shown by the class, Dr. Brauer and Mr. Green are exhibiting prints taken from negatives gathered during the past year or two, but they are always reminding the visitor that this exhibition is primarily of the students' work rather than theirs.

World Famous Pianist To Entertain at College Home-Coming

An internationally famous pianist, son of an alumnus of San Jose State Teachers College, and a quartet of prominent Spanish singers of state-wide reputation, will be the highlights of the Alumni Home Coming program June 17th in San Jose at the State Teachers College.

Lester Donahue, international pianist, who has made famous that outstanding musical discovery, the "tonal pedal," will present a recital during the morning of Home Coming in honor of his mother, a graduate of the class of 1887. Mr. Donahue made his musical debut at the Beethoven Saal, Berlin, in 1913, later making his first American appearance at the Aeolian Hall in New York. He has since appeared with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra in New York and Philadelphia. He and his mother are journeying from Los Angeles for the express purpose of attending the traditional alumni gathering.

"Las Tapatias," better known as the Lindeman sisters of San Jose, will act as strolling Spanish minstrels at the Spanish barbecue at noon. The Lindeman sisters, Emilia, Lena, Bertha, and Clotilda, are of Spanish and Scandinavian extraction, born in Mexico, but educated in the schools of California. Their professional name, "Las Tapatias," the name by which the colorful young singing girls of Guam are known.

Home Coming will start with fraternal and department breakfasts on the morning of the seventeenth, climaxed with the Spanish barbecue at noon and Commencement in the afternoon, and close with the Black Masque honor society ceremonial at midnight.

Grads Will Pay Visit To S.J. Campus

Barbecue Adds Informality To San Jose State's Annual Affair

Classes of '33, '08, and '83 Will Be Guests at Meeting

Alumni members of San Jose State who gather here Saturday, June 17, will enjoy the most informal, festive Home-Coming day ever staged by the College Alumni Association. Commencing at 8 a. m. with various department breakfasts, and concluding with Commencement at 3:00, the day's official program offers a variety of attractions to the old "grads" in attendance.

Breakfasts have been announced by the following organizations:

Home-Making Department, 8:15, in the cafeteria.

Art Department, 8:15, Art building.

Allenian, 8:00, place unannounced.

Tau Delta Phi, 8:15, College Tower.

Registration will take place at 10 o'clock, at the Quad entrance. Following this will occur an exhibit of old pictures and relics of the Normal School, and an illustrated review of "Ye Olde Days" in the Little Theater.

At 11:15 in the Little Theater, Mr. Lester Donahue, a pianist of international note, will be guest artist. His mother, a graduate of the class of 1884, is to present him.

The important event of the day, a Spanish barbecue, will be held under the trees on the south lawn. Reservations for this jolly get-together are coming in rapidly and indications point to a large attendance. (Continued on Page Two)

Hill Visits San Jose State To Make Survey

Andrew P. Hill, graduate of San Jose State, and ex-faculty member who is now chief of the Division of School Planning of the State Education department, visited in San Jose to study the possibilities for improvement at San Jose State.

Mr. Hill is making a complete survey of the old training school building to see if it is possible to tear it down without hindering the capacity of class-rooms at the college. Local officials believe that this will be possible because of the added room provided by the new Science building.

In addition to this, the chief of the Division of School Planning is working on a plan to better the acoustics of the Morris Dailey auditorium, and a better plan for the arrangement of the library.

Mr. Hill will be in San Jose for several days before the completion of this survey.

Berkeley Pastor Is Speaker at Meeting of June Graduates

"Self Management" was the subject of a talk given by the Rev. Stanley Armstrong Hunter, D. D., pastor of St. John's Presbyterian Church Berkeley, to the graduates of this college in their baccalaureate services held Sunday afternoon in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

"Have a definite goal" urged Dr. Hunter, "seek freedom, but do not lose your sense of direction."

The services Sunday opened the week of exercises that mark the 71st and largest commencement of the college, with 476 students to receive diplomas at the commencement exercises next Saturday.

As the graduating class stood, they were given their charge by Dean Charles B. Goddard, of the college. Dr. Hunter was presented by President MacQuarrie. Dr. Hunter gave the invocation and benediction, preceded and followed by the processional and recessional of the graduates in their caps and gowns, headed by the faculty in academic garb.

Musis was supplied by the college orchestra led by Professor Adolph W. Otterstein, and by the A Capella Choir led by William Eriendson.

Dedication of Numerals To Be Held Thursday June 15, at 12 o'Clock

An impressive dedication of the class numerals, which have been placed in front of the main entrance since the class of 1922, will take place Thursday, June 15, at 12:00 o'clock noon, in the Quad, with Dr. Carl Holliday, of the English department, presiding.

The numerals are expected to eventually occupy all the squares from the entrance to the building to the arches facing Fourth street. The square dedicated to this year's class of '33, will be the thirteenth one from the main entrance.

Arrangements for the dedication have been arranged by a committee composed of Harry Krytzer, Jr., chairman, Gladys Born, and Arnold Teague.

Patio and Dining Room of Sainte Claire To Be Scene Friday

Big Social Events of Season To Finish Activities of Class of 1933

The patio and main dining room of the Hotel Sainte Claire will be the scene of the Senior Ball on the evening of June 16th, when the Seniors bring to a peak the social rush of the annual week of social activity which comes to each graduating class.

Great care is being taken and elaborate plans are being formulated so that the dance will bring to a proper and fitting close the four years of college life behind each member of the graduating class.

Bids are selling at $1.50 each, and may be purchased at the Co-Op store or from the bid committee under the chairmanship of Dick White.

The dance music, with which no chances must be taken, is to be played by Nick Morrissey's orchestra, whose music has proved popular with several of the local sororities and fraternities. Several special orchestral selections have been prepared, among them a special medley of school songs.

Contrary to a custom which has become exceedingly popular during the past year, corsages will be very much in evidence, an announcement which should give those who find their friends enhanced by a corsage a chance to appear at their best.

The faculty who will be present are: Dr. and Mrs. T. W. MacQuarrie, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Minssen, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. E. Staffelbach, Dr. and Mrs. James Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley De Groot, Mr. and Mrs. Elder, Dr. and Mrs. De Voss, and Miss Helen Dimmick.

P. E. O. Donates To Student Loan Fund

The Student Loan Fund which has been hard-pressed this year in keeping up with the demands of needy students in the student body has been increased by a donation of $25 from the P. E. O.

The secret organization of college alumnae had planned to hold a picnic over the coming weekend but voted recently to do without the picnic this year and to give the money that would be spent to the loan fund.

Mrs. Fred Curtiss is responsible for the action of the local P. E. O.

COVELLO IS INSTALLED AS PRESIDENT FRIDAY AT RECOGNITION DAY

Frank Covello, newly elected Student Body president for next year, was inaugurated into office as part of the impressive Recognition Day ceremonies. Leon Warnke, outgoing president, officiated at the installation.

Covello's new honor climaxes a long record of college achievements. Having served on the executive board for six quarters, he is well acquainted with student body problems, and should prove a capable executive. Besides engaging in many athletic and student body activities, Covello has a scholastic record averaging B throughout, and has been elected to membership in three scholastic honor societies.

Students who have excelled in athletic and scholastic activities throughout the year received official recognition for their work, and thirteen organizations were presented with checks for their participation in the Spardi Gras Carnival. Included in the group were Sigma Gamma Omega, Delta Theta Omega, Tau Delta Phi, Radio Club, Allenian, Spartan Knights, Freshman Class, Spartan Spears, Y. W. C. A., and Phi Kappa Pi.

Sam H. Cohn Honored at Graduation Ceremonies

With the graduation of this year's graduating class an honorary Bachelor of Arts degree will be granted to Sam H. Cohn, a graduate of the old Normal School. Mr. Cohn graduated from the college in June of 1892 with a general elementary credential. Since that time his work has been evaluated, and he will receive the honorary B. A. degree with the Seniors of this year. Since graduation Mr. Cohn has done elementary school work and is now Deputy State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

College Magazine Will Be Published Soon

A remarkable opportunity is offering itself to all college students with literary aspirations by the formation of an Inter-Collegiate Magazine "The Penguin," the headquarters of which are at present being established in San Francisco.

All students who are interested in this line are invited to attend a meeting with the editors of the prospective magazine at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon in room one of the Home-Making building.

"The Penguin" has been in process of formation for the past three years and will represent practically every college in the eleven Western States. Most of the articles, stories and poems that will compile the pages of this magazine will be contributed by students of the colleges, but in addition to this material each issue will contain authoritative articles by prominent educators.

After the publication of the first issue all material will be paid for. It is not an amateur venture. The magazine already has a circulation of over fifteen thousand subscribers, and will probably rapidly increase after publication and promotion of the first few issues. It has also a large amount of advertising and, financially will be able to stand firmly on its own feet.

At the meeting scheduled for this afternoon at four o'clock, there will be no soliciting for subscriptions, but merely a discussion of the prospective future of the magazine and plans for submission of material. The meeting is purely for the purpose of bringing together the student writers and the various editors who are gathered from all the large Western Universities: Stanford, California, Washington, Oregon, U. S. C., and others.

This is undoubtedly one of the most promising opportunities for undergraduate writers and will be one more step toward literary recognition from the country and world at large. No one who is truly sincere in his writing efforts should miss this meeting and the chance to get in on a new venture on the ground floor.

Phelan Contest participants are especially urged to be present, however others who missed this last opportunity are invited to compensate themselves and regain their grip on the world by bringing themselves, pen and inspiration, to Room one, Tuesday, at four, in the Home-Making building.

Notebook Notes

By Rudolph Engfer

The fifth edition of "American Men of Schools"—A Biological Directory—edited by J. McKeen Cattell and Jaques Cattell, which is just off the press, has some interesting data about the men of science, where and what they are doing. The faculty members of San Jose State included this directory, number ten in all: Dr. Paul J. Beard, Dr. O. L. Brauer, Dr. James C. De Voss, Dr. Carl D. Duncan, Dr. Jay C. Elder, Dr. Raymond Mosher, Dr. Sylvia L. Parker, Dr. P. Victor Peterson, Dr. Gayle B. Pickwell, and Dr. Dorothy Yates.

This volume has an interesting history in which the progress in the field of research can be discerned. It was first issued in 1906, and contained 4,000 biographies; the second edition (1910), about 5,500; the third edition (1921), about 9,500; the fourth edition (1927), about 13,500; and the fifth edition published in March of this year has about 22,000 biographical sketches.

The directory was originally begun as a manuscript reference list for the Carnegie Institution of Washington, which made an appropriation of $1,000 toward the clerical and office expenses. It was hoped that it would make the men of science acquainted with one another and with one another's work. Names are included in this volume because they are supposed to represent work that has contributed to the advancement of pure science.

The editors selected one thousand names, which they felt to be the most important students of the natural and exact sciences in the first edition. In 1927 the list was confined to 250 names, and they are chosen by their colleagues rather than by the editors. Of this group, the University of California has fifteen, which gives them the second largest number. Harvard has sixteen.

This directory has some tables compiled from the data contained in the sketches; one of which shows the gradual migration of the birthplaces of the men of science. In 1903, Massachusetts produced 108.8 scientific men per million population 86.9 in Connecticut; and New York offering but 47.2. In 1910, the figures showed a gradual movement westward, but the figures in this edition indicate that the New England area, although it uses more men of science than any other section of the United States, does not produce as many as it uses. Most of the men of science are coming from the rural area of the central west. Considering the short space of time, these figures are sensational.

Another table shows that distinction is attained at an earlier age in mathematics and the exact sciences than in the natural sciences. Mathematicians and physicists attained distinction at the average age of 36; but zoologists, botanists, pathologists, anatomists, and geologists attained distinction at an average age above 45, with the geologists the highest, 49.4.

Among other things gathered from this directory is the date of birth and what the various initials of the names conceal. For instance if Dr. De Voss becomes hard to handle, I might reveal what that "C" stands for; the same goes for Dr. Mosher and his middle initial, "M". Or if Dr.

Junior College Graduates Receive A. A. Degrees

Junior College graduates hereafter will receive an Associated Arts degree at graduation ceremonies according to a statement issued by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie Friday.

In the past Junior College graduates have only received certificates and have not participated in graduation ceremonies and the inauguration of the new plan will be an addition to the graduation festivities.

The granting of such a degree was first made at the University of Chicago several years ago, but San Jose State is one of the first on the Pacific Coast to grant such a degree.

Several Students Have Yet To Receive Awards

The following people have not obtained their awards for meritorious service:

Frederick O'Hanlon
Maurice Day
Gail Baldwin
Lawrence Eagelson
Rae Dobbins
Janet Hartmannshenn
Mary Tracy
Hubert Staffebach
Frank Yearian.

They may obtain them by calling at Neil Thomas's office.

Photography Exhibit Will Be Presented Tomorrow

On Tuesday and Wednesday, June 13 and 14, a Photography Exhibit will be held in the upstairs hall of the new Science Building. It will contain work of Dr. E. S. Greene and Dr. O. L. Brauer, and also one exhibit of the work of each member of the Photography class. The exhibit will last from one until five.

All Kappa Delta Pi members who wish reservations for the luncheon to be given in the Quad at noon Home-Coming Day, June 17th, please sign the paper on the main bulletin board immediately. The price is 65 cents.

Yates takes advantage of my ignorance, I could print her entire list of names, which is quite extensive. Of course, this is all in fun!

Someone might remind me that youth has a faculty of laying up a luxuriant harvest of regrets, which is far from a falsehood.

The word, fact, is somewhat of a paradox in itself—when you have it, nobody remarks it; when you haven't it, everybody remarks it. And so it goes.

I believe it was Dr. Pickwell who told the story about visiting one of the large factories in San Francisco. He was showed the enormous plant by the foreman. Upon reaching the second floor, which gave one a panoramic view of the shop, the foreman remarked, with considerable gusto, "We have three shifts in this plant."

And Dr. Pickwell thought he was viewing a factory, not an auto.

EX-BOARD PICNIC HELD AT PORTAL RANCH ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The annual Ex-Board picnic, given to the members of both the old and new members of the Ex-Boards and their guests was held last Saturday at the Portal Ranch near Mt. Hamilton.

About thirty odd students were present and spent the day swimming, dancing and playing baseball. The picnic began about 1 o'clock, and lasted until 9 in the evening. Credit for the organization of the event must be given to Bud Applegate, who was the barbeque, which was the outstanding feature of the day goes to Neil Thomas for his skill as "chef".

If any further information is needed concerning the success of the picnic, any member of the Ex-Board, upon being quizzed, will probably answer, "Boy, I never saw so much food!"

Mr. and Mrs. Blesh, Neil Thomas, and Dr. Botts were present as representatives of the faculty, and took part wholeheartedly in the activities.

Verse Speaking Choirs Entertain Friday in College Little Theatre

The State College Verse Speaking Choir, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Jenks, head of the Speech Arts department, will present its annual concert next Friday evening in the Little Theatre, beginning at 8:15, because of the large crowds that were not accommodated at the program last week-end.

One of the highlights of the program which was presented last Friday evening was the selection of poems by the first and second years combined, including about 50 voices.

A silver offering was taken during the evening to aid in defraying the expense of presenting the concert.

Pegasus Club Is Studying Greek Mythology

It is rumored that the Winged Horse from out of the pages of Greek Mythology has come to make his home on this campus. A group of Spartans riding this stalwart steed of literature aim to make a name for themselves in the literary field.

The old English Club has ceased to exist and Pegasus has taken its place. Although it is a young organization its rapid growth assures it a very successful future. Perhaps it is too new to mean anything to the students of San Jose but what this college needs is a literary society that will put San Jose on the map. Pegasus hopes to fill this place. It aims to band together all those students with sufficient interest and ability in creative writing. Membership is secured by a qualified manuscript either poetry, short story, play, description, or essay. Whether Pegasus will publish its own magazine, or assist the "Penguin," a San Francisco magazine, is not known as yet.

Inspiration, encouragement, and intelligent help is all that up and coming writers need and this Pegasus hopes to give to its members under the experienced guidance of Dr. Carl Holliday, faculty adviser for the club.

Freshman Orientation To Sponsor Dance on Next Thursday Morning

The final Freshman orientation program of the year was presented Thursday, with Dr. Goddard and Dr. MacQuarrie as the guest speakers. Bill Moore, Jack Fidankue, and Dave Gillmore performed their executive duties for the last time, closing an administration that received the wholehearted co-operation of the class.

Dr. Goddard announced that Monday, September 18, will be the only registration day next quarter, but students may come the week before and register, and will not have to attend school Monday.

There will be no orientation next Thursday, but the Freshmen are going to conduct a dance in the Men's Gym. A nine-piece orchestra will provide music, and all Freshmen are invited to attend.

Bertram Whiting, accomplished musician, played a clarinet solo and Emil Miland sang. Don Lima rendered two violin numbers and Miss Winifred Fisher, talented Atwater Kent audition winner, sang two beautiful selections. Her sweet voice completely captivated the audience.

Dr. MacQuarrie closed the program with a short talk, commenting on the many activities which may be enjoyed here, and expressing the hope that the Freshmen have gained from their stay in college.

Spring Football Practice Closes With Scoreless Battle Between "Warts" and "Rats" In Wide-Open Game on Friday

Defensive Play Once Again
Features Work of Local Gridders

Eleven weeks of Spring practice came to an end last Friday afternoon on the San Carlos street turf with a wide-open football game that was replete with everything but touchdowns.

The "Warts" and the "Rats" battled up and down the field for forty minutes before the eyes of several hundred students and townspeople, and when it was all over the score still stood 0-0.

High class defensive play has featured every Spring practice so far, and Friday was no exception. With every man striving to do his utmost, sensational tackles and wide-awake plays were the rule rather than the exception.

Offensive drive, however, still appeared to be lacking. Each team had chances to score, but neither was able to generate the needed "punch" which produces those all-important touchdowns.

The best of the scoring opportunities fell to the "Warts" and occurred early in the game. The "Rats" were desperately attempting to gain ground by the overhead route. Barr faded back to throw on third down. Vic Lompa "Wart" guard was through on him like a flash to block the throw. The ball bounded into the arms of John Leo, gargantuan "Wart" tackle, who ambled some 35 yards to the two-yard line before he was thrown out of bounds. On the very first play, however, Ray Arjo hit the stone-wall center of the "Rat" line so hard that he fumbled. Barr, of the "Rats" recovered to end the threat.

The game was marred by excessive fumbling in its earlier stages, but the final quarters saw the boys steady down considerably.

The contest marked the end of San Jose's first Spring practice, and by the appearances of the players it was a highly successful one.

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, Mr. Goddard, and Miss Meta Goldsmith of the local faculty officiated at the special initiation Friday.

Intra-Mural

By Bob Leland

Well, it's all over, the baseball series, I mean. The two Senior teams finished in a tie for the lead, while the Soph and Frosh A outfits tied for the third position. The Seniors, by virtue of the double win, gain some 80 points in the race for the class championship.

The Juniors set some kind of record by failing to appear for their contest with the Senior A team. The Sophs dropped the Frosh B squad by a 10-4 score in an easy fashion. Ulrici, star Soph moundsman, pitched only four of the seven stanzas, and allowed only three scattered hits. The Frosh found Bonari for three of their runs.

There have been only four scores turned in by intra-mural golfers, and of these the Seniors led by Countryman, have all the places. Following him are Goodell, J. Thomas and Mathiesen, with scores of 90, 96 and 116 respectively. Countryman shot an 86.

Some of the rest of you had better get busy. The deadline for finishing the play is June 13, TODAY. GET THOSE SCORES IN, IT'S YOUR LAST CHANCE.

Stadium Floor Is Ready For Planting of Turf

"With the installation of the sprinkler system finished the stadium floor is finished and the contractors will begin laying the black earth for the turf" announced Dr. MacQuarrie when interviewed Friday about the stadium.

Upon the completion of this work the use of the San Jose State College stadium is assured for the use of Coach Dudley De Groot's Far Western Conference champions.

Dr. Harold Miller Will Return Here Next Fall

Harold Miller, member of the English faculty, who has been attending Yale University during his leave of absence for the past year, will receive his doctor's degree this year and will resume his position on the local faculty next Fall.

While at Yale University Mr. Miller has been hailed as the outstanding English student to attend the university in years and has been called in for special work with the heads of the English department.

The announcement of his return by Dr. MacQuarrie has stopped rumors that Mr. Miller would not return to San Jose but would remain on the faculty of Yale University.

Ready For Next Fall

Football Captain Bud Hubbard, who featured prominently in Friday's wind-up of Spring practice, and who is being depended on to lead his team-mates through a successful season next fall.

De Groot Denounces Football Men Who Gave Up; Biddle Is Disappointment

The outstanding feature of the entire Spring practice has been the quitting of players who have shown promise simply because they were discouraged over their apparent lack of progress. Right at a time when they were beginning to learn and could be useful they would give some alibi and quit turning out, which, by the way, flunks them in the course.

De Groot Quoted

"Football is a kind of game where experience is a very prominent factor, and, as I see it, many potentially good football players quit trying just as they are beginning to find themselves. We have had ample evidence this Spring of boys who have shown promise, only to give up just when they are becoming valuable, and have a chance to cash in on their hard work. They overlook the intricateness of football, which is just like any kind of work that demands experience as a necessity.

"I have instructed and given every boy valuable time, which is thrown away when they quit. There isn't enough football players in the school, and it burns me up when they quit. Men that stay out and stick to it will naturally receive my consideration. Several men on the squad never give up and I predict that these fellows will be used a great deal next Fall. Stewart and Jennings, both of whom are ends, fall in this group, while men like Wisdom, Fabbro, and Duncan, players of good natural ability, gave up upon the slightest pretext.

"Men like Simoni, who insists on playing with his bad shoulder, and Whitaker, who had several teeth cracked, but still wants to play, arrive at their first string positions simply because of this spirit. The greatest thing one learns in football is to take a beating, learn to like it, and come back for more."

Carl Biddle, six-foot four "play boy", is the biggest disappointment that Spring practice has yet turned up. He has a wonderful physique, but he lets two things interfere with his football. He doesn't take his football seriously enough and the other is that he is not taking advantage of his weight, speed, power, and build.

The ferocious defensive play did not allow any individual backfield man to really star Friday. No outstanding gains from scrimmage were recorded and only one pass was completed.

Spartan Spasms

By Murdock and Bishop

Seen at Friday's scr-r-ramble!

Hubbard's diagnosing of the sleeper pulled by the Warts on the first play. Shehtanian failed to get away with one of De Groot's fast ones.

Johnny Leo's gallop goalward after pulling in an intercepted pass. The 245 pound tackle showed amazing speed in his flight toward scoring honors, being stopped just in time.

Azevedo's sitting on Carl Sandholt, preventing "Shorty" from getting the ball on Bill Hubbard's guard around play, which strangely bore a Chitra tang.

Jimmy Francis turning in a pip of a game on offense and defense, besides calling plays for the Warts.

Extra! Double reverse works without losing yardage. Bert Watson carried the spheroid on one occasion for a gain, something that has not been done on Washington Square from a double reverse in many moons.

Jennings also turned in some nice plays at end for the Warts, finally being forced out of the game with an injured leg.

Wes Klemm showed a flash of fire at the center position for the Rats. This is a new spot for the tow-head, who has been holding down a guard position for two years.

"Toby" MacLachlan seemed to be rather annoyed at Joe Amori on one occasion when the ball was rudely snatched from the MacLachlan grasp. However, Joe and Tobe are the best of friends now, so it was just a gesture on the spur of the moment.

Dave Barr and Delos Wolfe completed the only decent pass of the day when Barr rifled a nice one to Wolfe in the third quarter.

Carl Nerell turned in a peach of a game at the guard position for the Warts. Carl played two years under Crawford, but was unable to turn out for the De Groot squad last year. Looks as though Dud will be able to use the Los Gatos boy next fall.

George Embury got off a swell spiraling punt in the first quarter which indicated that the slender Spartan star will be right in there when it comes to booting them next fall.

Fumbles and more fumbles featured the opening plays of the game. However, the boys settled down after awhile, and the second, third, and fourth quarters saw practically no bobbles committed.

More passes were blocked by fast charging ends, guards, etc., in Friday's fracas than in any contest we have seen for some time.

A twisted ankle on the part of Freddie Bennett appears to be the most serious of the injuries sustained by those participating in the game, which all goes to prove that hard football is safe football.
